One delegate was left on the floor as a black bloc anti-capitalist group of masked activists tried to storm the hotel. They threw eggs, metal poles and even a fire extinguisher as they pushed past police protecting the entrance to the conference centre. The conference is taking place despite the protest. The protest comes a week after demonstrators were ejected from the Green Party's conference in Birmingham. And just days after national rail companies banned public transport for a no-deal Brexit protest.Q: Laravel 6 routing is not working I am trying to create a web application using Laravel 6.5 but I am having a problem with routing. In a web.php file I have this in my top route group: Route::get('/', 'HomeController@index'); And this is in my HomeController: public function index(Request $request) { return view('home'); } I expect that Learning Interactive Programming in JavaScript with Game Maker Studio - ejones ====== ejones This is a bit off-topic, but I wanted to show my appreciation for the Tyn syntax and language features. I first started using Tyn [1] a few weeks ago and find it a wonderful tool for doing some prototyping and rapid development of smallish little games and toys. This demo is the result of the game I made in the last week or so. [1] [lang](Q: android test connection to server I want to test the connection to my server through my android application. I have already set up the wifi on my phone with the correct password/name. The app I'm making connects to the local server (localhost), but when I use it for a real connection to a website (ip address) it fails to connect. When I log into the site using my phone it seems like it doesn't have any error, but when I use the app it fails. I am lost, so if anyone could help me out that would be much appreciated. A: I think your code fails because you only specify the ip address, but not the port. Try this:
